October 26, 2011

One of the top American e-tailers, TigerDirect, has revealed AMD's upcoming FX-6100 as part of several bundles ranging from motherboard to full system bundles. The price for the FX-6100 is listed at $79. Not surprisingly, the FX-6100 is not listed individually.

One of the top American e-tailers, TigerDirect, has revealed AMD's upcoming FX-6100 as part of several bundles ranging from motherboard to full system bundles. The price for the FX-6100 is listed at $79. Not surprisingly, the FX-6100 is not listed individually.

Interestingly, some bundles, such as MSI's FX-6100 - FX-6100 claim to be shipping as early as "within 24 hours". However, the ASUS Sabertooth - FX-6100 bundle has a more realistic time frame of "2-3 days".

Since there is no individual listing, there are no detailed specifications mentioned for FX-6100. However, the heading Intel Pentium G3000 based lock and loadable cache and 3D V-TDP - all in accordance with reports thus far.

Of course, these bundle publications are likely to be in breach of NDAs and may be taken down from the website soon. Till then, you can review a list of FX-6100 bundles here.

Olympus Pen E-P3 Review: This Pen is mightier than your compact camera

Source: http://www.vr-zone.com/articles/olympus-pen-e-p3-review-compact-camera
October 26, 2011

The Olympus Pen E-P3 is one of the three cameras that were announced in Singapore at an event at end June this year, and boasts the world's fastest autofocus (AF) via Frequency Acceleration Sensor AP system and a lens incorporating the MEC (Move and Still Compatible) mechanism. In this review, VR-Zone has a hands-on review of the new micro four-thirds camera and see if it shoots as well as it looks.

When Olympus launched their first Pen series E-Pa micro four-thirds digital camera in 2009, it garnered many favorable reviews, and based on the success of their new line of micro four-thirds products, the camera manufacturer has unveiled the Olympus Pen E-P3 which is one of the latest models in the Pen series announced this year. The E-P3 resembles its elder siblings, the E-P2 and E-Pa, though it comes with few improvements overall. The camera claims to incorporate the world's fastest autofocus, achieved with the FAST (Frequency Acceleration Sensor) AF system, and features a 3-megapixel High Speed Live MOS Sensor with 1080i resolution, 1080p definition movie compatibility and high ISO 16,800 sensitivity. Here's a look at the E-P3 specification.
